DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Davis et al. (US2003/0125754). Davis et al. disclose all the limitations of the claims except for a presence of a control interface. It is well known in the art to have a control interface on a handle portion in order to control the drive assembly. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a control interface on a handle portion in order to enhance convenience for user.

Support for the well-known statement: Azerad et al. (2004/0091845), Gass et al. (6,834,730), Blaustein et al. (6,836,917), Aiyar (5,471,695) disclose power hand held tools with a control interface on a handle portion.

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 8/28/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion or motivation and hindsight to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, the motivation to combine the teachings reference is enhancing convenience for user as indicated in the office action mailed 4/27/06 (paragraph #3). The motivation, enhancing convenience for user is in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. Examiner provided references in the art that are hand held devices comprising a handle portion with at least a portion of a control interface.

Applicant's argument that the references cited are nonanalogous art or applicable to different fields than the present invention, it has been held that a prior art reference must either be in the field of applicant's endeavor or, if not, then be reasonably pertinent to the particular problem with which the applicant was concerned, in order to be relied upon as a basis for rejection of the claimed invention. See In re Oetiker, 977 F.2d 1443, 24 USPQ2d 1443 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, the prior art references are in the field of applicant's endeavor or reasonably pertinent to the particular problem with which the applicant was concerned. Examiner considers the field of applicant's endeavor being a hand-held buffing or cleaning device. The cited references are all in the field of abrading, buffing, brushing and cleaning and they all disclose hand held devices with a control interface on a handle portion.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter, as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Davis et al. (US2003/0125754). Davis et al. disclose all the limitations of the claims except for a presence of a control interface. It is well known in the art to have a control interface on a handle portion in order to control the drive assembly. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a control interface on a handle portion in order to enhance convenience for user.

Support for the well-known statement: Azerad et al. (2004/0091845), Gass et al. (6,834,730), Blaustein et al. (6,836,917), Aiyar (5,471,695) disclose power hand held tools with a control interface on a handle portion.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
